

NELSON MILLER.

JANUARY 3, 1832.

Mr. HUBBARD, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Nelson Miller, report:

That the petitioner states, under oath, that he is 78 years of age; that in June, 1775, he enlisted as a drummer in Capt. Martindale's company, Col. Church's regiment, then of the Rhode Island line, for eight months; that his regiment was marched to Boston, and that he was kept in service at this time nine months; that immediately after, in 1776, he again enlisted for one year in Capt. Peck's company, in Col. Lippit's regiment; that after the expiration of said term of service, he again enlisted for fifteen months in Col. Crary's regiment, and that he is destitute of property.

The service of the petitioner in Col. Church's regiment, is proved by Aaron Bowen; and his service in Col. Lippit's regiment, which was in the continental line in 1776, as stated by him, is very satisfactorily shewn by the testimony in the case; and the evidence also shews that the petitioner is in indigent circumstances, and needs the assistance of his country for support. The committee are of opinion that he is entitled to a pension; and they therefore report a bill.

Mr. HARRIS, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensioners, submits the following REPORT.

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensioners, to whom was referred the petition of Nelson Miller, report:

That the petitioner states, under oath, that he is 78 years of age; that in June, 1775, he enlisted as a drummer in Capt. Marshall's company, Col. Church's regiment, then of the Rhode Island line, for eight months; that his regiment was marched to Boston, and that he was kept in service at this place nine months; that immediately after, in 1776, he again enlisted for one year in Capt. Peck's company, in Col. Lippitt's regiment; that after the expiration of said term of service, he again enlisted for fifteen months in Col. Cary's regiment, and that he is destitute of property.

The service of the petitioner in Col. Church's regiment is proved by Aaron Horton; and his service in Col. Lippitt's regiment, which was in the continental line in 1776, as stated by him, is very satisfactorily shown by the testimony in the case; and the evidence also shows that the petitioner is in indigent circumstances, and needs the assistance of his country for support. The committee are of opinion that he is entitled to a pension, and they therefore report him.
